History and Background of the ASEAN Mutual Arrangement on Architectural Services

The Association of Southeast Asian Nations, or ASEAN, was created on 8 August 1967 in Bangkok, Thailand, with the signing of the ASEAN Declaration (Bangkok Declaration) by Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines, Singapore and Thailand. The Founding Fathers of ASEAN: Brunei Darussalam then joined on 7 January 1984, Viet Nam on 28 July 1995, Lao PDR and Myanmar on 23 July 1997, and Cambodia on 30 April 1999, making up what is today the ten Member States of ASEAN.

As part of the ASEAN purpose to promote active collaboration and mutual assistance on matters of common interest in the economic, social, cultural, technical, scientific and administrative fields, the ASEAN Framework Agreement on Services was created. ASEAN Framework Agreement on Services (AFAS) objective is to enhance cooperation in services among ASEAN Member countries and to eliminate substantial restrictions to trade in services suppliers within and outside the ASEAN.

The assistance and implementation of the of the MBA's would enable professional service providers who are registered and signatory to ASEAN member states to be recognized in other signatory ASEAN member states which facilitates the flow of professional services among the ASEAN member states.

What is the objective of ASEAN Mutual Arrangement (MBA) on Architectural Services?

The objectives of this Arrangement are:

- 1.1 To facilitate mobility of Architects
- 1.2 To exchange information in order to promote adoption of best practices on standards of architectural education, professional practice and qualifications
- 1.3 To conform to the spirit of ASEAN cooperation based on fair distribution of resources and benefits through collaborative exercises and
- 1.4 To encourage, facilitate and establish mutual recognition of architects and set up standards and commitment of technological transfer among ASEAN Member Countries.

What are the qualifications for one to become an ASEAN Architect (AA)?

In order to become An ASEAN Architect, an Architect must have:

1. Completed an accredited architectural degree recognized by the professional architectural accreditation body whether in the country whether in the Country of Origin or Host Country as assessed and recognized as having the equivalent of such degree. The education for Architects should be no less than five years duration delivered on a full time basis in an accredited program in an accredited program in an accredited/university in the Country of Origin who allows flexibility for equivalency.
2. A current and valid professional registration or licensing certificate to practice architecture in the country of origin issued either by the Professional Regulatory Authority (PRA) of the ASEAN member countries and in accordance with its policy on registration/licensing/qualification of the practice of architecture or the monitoring committee.
3. Acquired practical and diversified experience of not less than 100 years of continuous practice of architecture after graduation, of which at least five (5) years shall be after licensure/registration and at least ten (10) years of which shall be in responsible charge of significant architectural works.
4. Complied with the Continuing Professional Development (CPD) policy of the country of origin at a satisfactory level.
5. Obtained certification from the Professional Regulatory Authority (PRA) of the country of origin with no record of serious violation on technical, professional or ethical standards, local and international, for the practice of architecture
6. Complied with any other requirements agreed upon by the ASEAN Architect Council (AAC) to be registered as an AA under the ASEAN Architect Register (AAR).

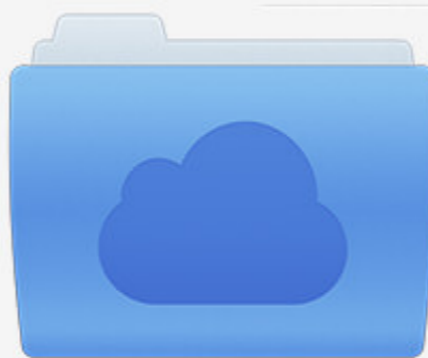

Who is an ASEAN Architect?

An ASEAN Architect (AA) is a citizen of any ASEAN member state that has complied with the requirements of the Professional Regulatory Authority (PRA) in an Architect of his/her country to practice his/her profession in any ASEAN Member States.

Who is a Registered Foreign Architect?

Refers to an ASEAN Architect (AA) who has successfully applied to and is authorized by the Professional Regulatory Authority (PRA) of the host country to work either in independent practice or in collaboration with one or more licensed architects of the Host Country.
